PREMIER AND MR. MICHENER ENGAGE IN A SHARP DEBATE IN LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY

Premier Replies Easily and Forcefully to Opposition Members' Sharp Inquiries—Reveals Joker in Federal Road Building Appropriation Bill—Defends E. D. & B. C. Rail-

While the speech from the throne will serve as an excuse for talking until some time next week, it was thoroughly squeezed yesterday by Mr. Michener, the opposition leader, and those to follow—that is nothing of any consequence. The latitude of debate may result in the introduction of fresh topics, but there is nothing left in the legislative sack. Mr. Tweedie boxed the compass and gave a fine imitation of the speaker.

The farmers were busy, he said, the departmental heads were unprepared to make reports, yet the government had called a session of the legislature without giving a hint of the necessity for so doing. There must be no prejudice. These were matters, said Mr. Michener, which had no place in politics and should never be stirred up.

In common with many others of his trade it is supposed that he was trying to board a train to leave town after looking for work here, when, in some manner, he lost his balance and fell under the wheels. He

The World's Best Liniment
Needed in Every Family
From Infancy to Old Age
If Your Home Is Without "Nervine"
Read the Following Closely.

The high cost of living today demands economy on every side. Suchness is expensive. Far better to treat little ills before they grow serious. For this reason every home should have handy on the shelf a good ready cure like Nervine, which cures the common ailments that occur in every family.

For example, when the baby comes in with a hot foot and a hot head, Nervine will cure him. If a cold has settled on his chest, rub on Nervine and the cold will go.

If something has been eaten that causes cramps, nausea, or diarrhoea, just twenty drops of Nervine—that's all—and cure is effected.

As a liniment for outward application in case of Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica, Lumbago or Rheumatism, it's really hard to imagine how Nervine relieves, and how soon it cures.

Nervine is nothing new. No, it's one of the oldest and best known remedies. Used in thousands of homes by the people of many nations, simply because it stops pain, cures sickness, and rubs the family of its ills before they become troublesome.

JUDGE LECTURES YOUNG FORGER

While Father Sobs in Court
Judge Cautions Young Man to Walk Straighter.

With his father weeping audibly in the room, Earl Taylor, a young, self-confessed forger, stood in the prisoner's dock in the criminal court this morning and received a severe lecture from Judge Taylor. Taylor, ordered to having forged two cheques one for $10 and the other $12, and the father told the judge that his son had been lately been addicted to drink.

His honor said he wanted to give the boy a chance, but he stood guilty of a very serious offence, the extreme penalty of which was from 10 to 14 years. He had been told, though, that whisky had played an important part in the young man's downfall, and he wanted to remind the prisoner that there was nothing manly in leaving such a bar and participating in a crime.

The manliness lay in refusing to drink. He did not believe that but was told and he found him over under bonds to appear before the court on January 19, 1914, and if the conduct in the meantime had been worthy of notice he would consider carefully before passing sentence upon him.

Over 1,000 boxes of apples are included in the exhibit, and in addition, fruit from individual growers of wheat, oats, and barley.

Representing the all-Canada exhibit, competition are coming in scores daily. Manitoba will feature a field of growing corn.

CROPS ARE GOOD AT COLINTON

Bumper Harvest Being Taken off and Threshing is in Full Swing.

M. D. Martin of Colinton is spending a few days in the city, and was very enthusiastic concerning the crop conditions in his community. He says the crops never looked better in his district and the yield of all kinds of grain will be heavy this year. Harvesting is about done and threshing is in full swing. The Colinton fair is being held today and it is confidently expected that it will be the best fair ever held in that community.

GREAT NORTHERN TRAIN WRECKED; MANY INJURED

Cars Later Destroyed by Fire—
Two Were Slightly Injured.

Winnipeg, Minn., Sept. 19.—Six cars of the Great Northern eastbound train, which were wrecked by the track by a burning bridge on the Burlington railway three miles east of East Winnipeg today. Mrs. J. Taylor and a G. H. Bennett both of St. Paul were hurt, it was said, but not seriously.

The cars were later destroyed by fire. The passengers were taken to a hospital and the train was running 30 miles an hour and was within 100 feet of the bridge when Engineer A. J. Hickey observed the wreck. The emergency brakes were applied but it was too late to stop.

SALARIES INCREASED.
Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the syndicate of hotel and restaurant employees, it was decided to increase the salaries of married persons to $1,000 a year. No action was taken on the discussion of the question of raising the minimum.

TOWN OF BROOKS NARROWLY ESCAPES BEING WIPED OUT

Early Morning Fire Destroys Entire Block, Danger Not Over Yet.

MEDICINE PREPARES TO GO TO TOWNS ASSISTANCE

Blaze Which Started in Chinese Laundry Causes Loss of $25,000—Entire Population
Turns Out to Fight It.

Brooks, Alta., Sept. 19.—With 500 people in the business section a large, smouldering ruin, over which the smoke population of the town is still standing in order to prevent a further outbreak of the conflagration, the town of Brooks, on the main line of the C.P.R. east of Calgary, narrowly escaped being totally destroyed early this morning.

So fierce were the flames that at one time it appeared as if the town was doomed and a hasty call for assistance was telegraphed to Medicine Hat resulting in the fire department of that city sending its apparatus on flat cars preparatory to making a special train to Brooks. A fortunate change of wind, however, checked the flames and a later telegram was sent to Medicine Hat cancelling the call for assistance. As it is the damage will amount to about $25,000, with some insurance carried on the majority of the buildings burned.

The fire was first discovered at about 10 o'clock in the evening when workers in a Chinese laundry in the heart of the business section watched a light in the street and gave the alarm. The volunteer fire brigade supplemented by a bucket brigade of all the male residents of the town, responded, but the flames spread rapidly and in less than 20 minutes the entire block was in flames.

Gregory's heavy bar, the White Star Life, three Chinese bunnies, the Pacific cold storage butcher store, and Ingram's real estate office and machinery building together with several small stores and offices were completely destroyed, nothing being saved and about 25 valuable horses which were turned loose as soon as it was seen that it was impossible to check the flames.

Early this morning it was reported that the fire was still burning, but is under control and unless a high wind springs up no further damage is feared.

JAPAN'S DEMANDS STILL DORMANT

China Has Taken No Action to Apologize for Insults to Japanese Flag.

Tokyo, Sept. 18.—China's acceptance of Japan's demands in connection with the killing of several Japanese at Nanking is still without effect to minor points. No answer having been received to the demand for an apology for insults directed against the Japanese flag or uniform, or for the dismissal of General Chang Tsun from the governorship of Kiang Province.

Before presenting the demand the Japanese foreign office sounded Great Britain regarding the attitude in the event of military action being taken, and learned that Great Britain would give it with apprehension, as such action would be likely to encourage the partition of China among the powers. The British government promised its support to Japan diplomatically at Peking in the demand for indemnity and an apology, but refused to countenance military or naval action.

Military circles are pressing the government to amend the demands so as to obtain an extension of certain concessions and the right to establish a military barracks at Hankow. The premier is urging Prince Yamagata and Prince Daini, who are members of the council of ministers, to use their influence to modify the militarist attitude.

CONFEDERATION IMPOSSIBLE UPON A BASIS OF INEQUALITY.

"Confederation cannot be carried on upon a basis of inequality" is the language in which Premier Sifton describes the situation and furnishes a reason sufficient in itself to compel the federal authorities, whether anxious or no, to hand over the resources and thereby place this province upon a basis of equality with such provinces as British Columbia and Ontario, which already have their own resources.

The present structural architecture of confederation is all awry. There is an absurd inequality about the representation. Eastern provinces which have not increased in population in the past ten, fifteen or twenty years, some of which have actually lost in population, are represented by the same number of members in the dominion house as fifteen or twenty years ago, while the west, which has been increasing at a tremendous rate for the past decade, is still represented by the same membership provided by a redistribution based upon a census of eleven years ago. Manifestly, this is wrong; but when, added to this glaring inequality in representation, is considered the circumstance that these eastern representatives, coming as they do from provinces which control their own resources through their own legislatures, have an equal voice with our western members in the federal house concerning the disposition of our western resources, it can be seen at a glance that here is an inequality so great that confederation upon such a basis cannot be carried on for any great length of time.

Upon this question of the provincial control of the resources Premier Sifton's utterances in the debate upon the reply to the speech from the throne leaves nothing indefinite as to the Alberta government's attitude. Premier Borden has made a promise to the west and the people of the west have a right to look to him for the fulfillment of that promise. If the conservative members of the legislature refuse to coincide with this position, then they must rest under the onus of being opposed to the province being given control of its resources.

The conservative leader in the legislature has no answer to this declaration except to say that the members of the government have changed their position; that they now oppose Dominion control where once they favored it. Waiving the point that under the Borden government these resources are now being controlled against the west where they were once handed for the benefit of the west, it must be clear that if the liberals have changed their position, then so have the conservatives; otherwise the parties would be unanimous. But, accepting the conservative allegation, if the two parties have changed positions, then the conservatives must have changed from right to wrong and the liberals from wrong to right.

MANUFACTURERS' LOYALTY FOR REVENUE ONLY.

Backed into an impossible position by the grain growers, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association no longer attempts to justify its position as the self-elected custodian of all the loyalty extant in this dominion, but takes refuge in a maze of words.

Like the Manufacturers' Association, the Grain Growers' Association is a characteristically representative institution. The manufacturers are protectionists; the grain growers are free traders. The manufacturers, in advocacy of their contention, have set up the claims of loyalty to the crown demands that a tariff will be maintained to keep all goods originating outside the dominion from coming into competition with the goods manufactured by the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. The grain growers are not so absolutely certain that it is disloyal to trade with people who live outside the dominion, but they are willing to go part way with the manufacturers upon the loyalty basis and assist to secure some reduction in the tariff upon British goods, such as will make it possible to trade more freely within the empire; in fact, they would like to see the tariff taken off British goods altogether, thereby abolishing any impediment to British manufacturers entering Canada whatever. And they write a letter to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association asking that organization to work hand in hand with the grain growers to secure free entry for British goods into Canada.

Here is the manufacturers' answer, framed at their meeting in Halifax on Thursday:

"Three years ago, we made advances in this direction to the Western Growers, and sent one of our secretaries to Winnipeg to extend the invitation personally to them. At that time there were, in our opinion, broad matters before the public regarding which, a better understanding as between the farmers of the west and manufacturers generally was desirable. The grain growers did not find it convenient to meet us, then, and should they desire to do so now no doubt we will hear from them through the proper channel."
 (Sgn.) "R. S. Gourlay, President."

Not a word about British preference; not a word about trade within the empire.

Considering that the president of the manufacturers had before the letter from the grain growers containing the definite offer—challenge would be the better word—to co-operate with the manufacturers toward the abolition of the duties against British goods, the manufacturers' answer looks like the most shameless case of taking refuge in words that has recently come to light. However, it explodes their loyalty cry, for it makes it apparent that they refuse to grasp the opportunity to promote trade within the empire by offering to open our markets to the mother country.

The manufacturers are loyalists for revenue only.

PARLIAMENTARY LANGUAGE OF TORONTO'S CIVIC SALON

"You're a liar from your feet up. Come outside and I'll lick you," is the parliamentary language in which Controller Foster of Toronto answered Alderman McBride in the council chamber of that city on Monday evening last when the alderman was entrancing the municipal salon with a detestable tale of how the controller had brain grown through the medium of summer picnics given to the school children of Alderman McBride's ward.

Toronto is on the verge of entering upon a plan of municipal ownership involving the purchase of thirty millions of dollars' worth of traction and electric enterprises, and these are the men into whose hands the success of the venture must be entrusted.

Relieved of the necessity for personal banter they might both be capable men, but, as the language indicates, their present conception of public duty is to play politics in the council chamber and to subordinate other considerations to the imperial one of how each happened to be where he is.

Before Toronto blows in its thirty millions it would be well-advised to abolish its council and controllers, with their incessant jangles, and substitute therefor a commission whose members would be restrained from undue chestiness regarding their hold upon the votes of the electors lest some day their pride in their own popularity be submitted to the test of the recall.

HALDANE'S VIEWS NOT

EMERGENCY AMMUNITION.

Lord Haldane's visit to Canada gave very little comfort of the emergency seeking jingoes of Borden government and their supporters in the press. Great efforts have been made to magnify the British Lord Chancellor's statesmanlike utterances into an appeal for the Borden $35,000,000. Nothing could have been further from Lord Haldane's thoughts, if his words expressed his views, as they undoubtedly did.

Lord Haldane at Montreal declared that the British navy was "of course the most potent and powerful in the world," that there would never be the slightest chance for conscription, as Great Britain had an infinitely better supply of free sailors than any other country could possibly get with or without conscription. As to Canada's share, he simply said, "if you decide to come to our aid, it would be a great help to the United Kingdom and a considerable source of strength to the Empire."

Not one word to indicate whether Lord Haldane preferred $35,000,000 cash or a Canadian navy, only a reflection on the Tory party in reversing the situation as it was at the time of the unanimous resolution of parliament in 1909. He emphatically declared that the manner of aiding was a matter for Canada to decide for herself. Nowhere in any of Lord Haldane's utterances was there the slightest sign of misgiving as to Great Britain's future. He gave no idea of the "Great Titan" fighting for help. He emphatically declared that if Canada did not care to assist the mother country she was capable of bearing the burden of empire alone.

The Borden emergency is as hopelessly discredited as is the Borden government.

STRANGE LOGIC BY

HON. GEORGE E.

Hon. George E. Foster on his return from Japan, where he did nothing but enjoy a splendid trip at the country's expense, gave out some interesting interviews. Hon. Mr. Foster, as minister of trade and commerce, stated that many of the people in Japan were so poor that they could not afford to eat even the rice they grew. Therefore, said Hon. Mr. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, there should be a great export of Canadian wheat and flour in Japan, to supply food for these people who could not afford to eat their own rice. The cares of office as Canada's general traveling agent must be playing strange tricks with Hon. Mr. Foster's once logical brain.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Charles Powlett Thompson, Lord Sydenham, Governor General of Canada, died 72 years ago today, Sept. 19, 1841, from injuries caused by an accident fall from a horse. He had been his duties as Governor of Canada about two years before he had shown great tact, ability and statesmanship in dealing with the many and varied problems then confronting Canada. Under his regime, in 1840, the Upper and Lower Provinces were reunited, and he had already taken the first steps toward the working out of a system of real responsible government when death intervened. In the opinion of most historians, Lord Sydenham would have found a conciliatory way out of the difficulties which were soon to bring about one of the most stormy periods in Canadian political history. His successor, Sir Charles Balfour, who assumed the governorship in the following October, attempted to carry on the Sydenham policy, but in 1842, before his work was more than commenced. The struggles for responsible government in Canada reached their crisis during the administration of Sir Charles Metcalfe, who assumed the governorship in 1843, and it was not until 1849, when the many able statesmen who have governed Canada, Lord Sydenham is entitled to a place in the front rank, and his sudden death was a great blow to the country.

September 19 is the birthday of Hon. William Patterson, minister of customs in the Laurier administration, at Hamilton, Ont., 1839, and Hon. James Buchanan, Ontario statesman, at Lambton, Ont., 1807. On this date Sir Alexander T. Galt, Canadian statesman, died in Montreal.

LATEST THING IN PREDICTIONS.

The latest thing in predictions is offered us today by Ernest Archibald, of Paris, who predicts that a means of swift travel will soon be discovered whereby we may be able to travel to the moon and back in 40 hours—unless, of course, we happen to freeze to death on the way. A point Mr. Archibald neglected to disclose: "Well, hurry up, Ernest—when we get that new, swift means of travel we'll find out what the man in the moon is like. We know about green cheese, what kind of persons live in the moon, and—let's be frank—this prediction sounds rather dubious, doesn't it? Still, it may be available for use in not a few years of best-selling novels—especially those revealing in utter improbabilities."

SALE OF LOTS AT

PRINCE GEORGE BRITISH COLUMBIA

SITUATED at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechaco Rivers in Central British Columbia, 450 miles north-east of Vancouver, B.C., and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, B.C., or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alta., on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific Province of the Dominion, and it has therefore long been the expectations of the general public that, upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important center.

Having purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve, No. 1, for the purpose of locating a township thereon, the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company Limited has caused the same to be surveyed and platted and will offer lots in this township for sale by public auction at Vancouver, British Columbia, Wednesday, September 17th, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, September 24th, 1913.

The terms of this sale will be one-quarter cash and the balance payable in one, two and three years with six per cent. interest. For further particulars and plans apply to:

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

VETERANS OBSERVE SEMI-CENTENARY OF THE BATTLE OF CHICKAMAUGA.

Just 50 years ago today the armies of the Union and the Confederacy faced each other in battle order on Chickamauga Creek, in Tennessee, and began a series of engagements that were among the most spectacular and deadly in the history of warfare. The stand of the Union soldiers, the "Bloody Run," the "Battle Above the Clouds," and the charge up Missionary Ridge, a terrific but unsuccessful sacrifice that ranks with the battle of Gettysburg, were among the most dramatic episodes in the history of the Civil War.

The semi-centenary of Chickamauga will be fittingly celebrated today and tomorrow by the United Veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, and by the Confederates who have met with them. Not long ago the battlefield of Gettysburg, in Pennsylvania, was the scene of a great reunion of the blue and the gray, and now the "Yanks" have invaded the southern for a peaceful session with the "Johnny Rebs" on the old battle ground. These two re-unions have historic significance as marking the final burying of the "Lost Cause." A shroud between the remnants of the regular army of a reunited nation, re-enacting the deadly struggle on Chickamauga, battlefield half a century ago, and a reproduction of the "Battle Above the Clouds" in fireworks, are spectacular features of the Chickamauga program.

The morning of September 19, 1862, found the Union army under Sherman and the Confederate forces under Bragg confronting each other on each side of Chickamauga Creek. The battle began at 10 o'clock, and the Union forces, under Sherman, were the victors. The Union forces, under Sherman, were the victors. The Union forces, under Sherman, were the victors.

NOTICECHILD.

1899—Kid McCoy knocked out the first round of O'Donnell in the Australian ring at New York. The Hoosier and the Australian had fought before, going 10 rounds to a draw, and had become bitter enemies. McCoy, never tender in his treatment of his antagonists, picked off the old score with interest. The Australian was 15 pounds heavier than the Kid, but even with that advantage he didn't stand a chance. McCoy stood off and slashed O'Donnell's face to bloody pulp, McCoy mercilessly knocked him out. It was a brutal fight, and should have been stopped in the first round or two.

1846—Mike McCoolle stopped him in 34 rounds at Rhodes Point Mo.

1912—Johnny Kilbane defeated Ed O'Keefe in 10 rounds at New York.

THE UNFORGIVABLE.

The bar of justice gleamed brightly in the sweltering courtroom. Not a drink had passed over for 10 hours.

"This head is fierce, your honor,"

"The man is right," commented the magistrate.

"What, then," queried the magistrate, mopping his brow with the police blotter, "happening?"

"Well," said the magistrate, calling to another blotter, "I believe I could forgive him almost anything on a day like this. What has he done?"

"He's a man in prison ground a groan, and the lawyer has left him alone—"

"He's right," said the magistrate, "but he's a man in prison ground a groan, and the lawyer has left him alone—"

Ten years later he laid the foundation of the great business which is now known all over the world, and which has made its proprietor a multi-millionaire and a baronet. The great soap works at Port Sunlight, Sir William's "model manufactory," are numbered among the "sights" of England.

Sir William attributes his success to making good soap and advertising it effectively. His first was among the first to realize the possibilities of newspapers in securing general publicity. He is also a firm believer in the co-operative and profit-sharing principles, and has put his theories into effect at Port Sunlight, where the employees

Present Fashions Make for Comfort and Health

Hats, Shoes, Gloves, Collars, Waist Bands Should All Be Loose Unless Miladi Would Play Martyr.

There are many women who go through life uncomfortable, excepting when they are in negligee dress. Their clothes hurt them, and so used are they to the condition that they accept it as their lot, observe a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, "I present a proposition for comfort—see a woman. The fashion made for comfort. Collarless frocks, loose and baggy armholes, unlined and unbuttoned bodices and skirts so light in weight that they would not burden a baby—such the modern woman can wear and be comfortable at the same time. She should become so imbued with the desire for comfort before present styles are succeeded by some which are less comfortable than these, as an individual, will seek and find comfortable clothes, no matter what the mode.

Choking collars are at all times faulty. They are really injurious. They bind the muscles and nerves of the throat in such a way that they cause dizziness, headaches and evulsion and distorted countable lumps and ridges in its shining surface, mining steps that proclaim agony in every motion, make the wearer's life miserable.

A physician once asked a nervous woman patient to remove her hat and she visited his office. He then took her hat and weighed it. It tipped the scales at a weight three times that of a man's derby. "That thing, madam," said the wise man, pointing at the offending velvet, plume-laden hat, "is the cause of your serious nervous headache and weight. Take it home and burn it. Wear something on your head that only weighs a few ounces, or wear nothing at all. I don't care which. Do this for a month and come back and tell me you are cured." The woman did what he told her—and thereby learned something about comfort and clothes.

LIKES OTTAWA MARKETS.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—D. C. Robertson, of Edmonton, who is on an official visit to Ottawa, and who is superintendent of markets in search of new features, stated today that he liked the appearance of the Ottawa markets better than any of those he has yet seen is the case. "I have visited Chatham, Brantford, London, Toronto and Montreal," he said, "and in most respects the Ottawa market is superior to any I have seen elsewhere and better."

his firm live in the happiest conditions. This "model town" is the most successful co-operative industrial community in the world. Despite this division of profits with his workmen, Sir William has managed to accumulate a fortune estimated at not less than $500,000, which gives him a place among the world's richest men.

"The first requisite of successful co-operation," said Sir William recently, "is a high-class management, and this must not be fettered in any way. The policy of the business must be free from any interference of the rank and file." In schemes of this kind there must be no maudlin sentiment. No foolish ideas must be allowed to govern the business.

Sir William has spent several years in the house of commons as a liberal. He is interested in many scientific and charitable organizations, and is chairman of the Liverpool Tropical School of Medicine. He has factories in Africa as well as in England. Lady Lever, whom he married in 1874, died about two months ago.

Louis Joseph Vance, author of "The Brass Bell," "The Bronze Bell," "The Brass Bell," and other double-d'ed romances, is estimated a young man with a long career of serious rights and royal ties ahead of him. He was born in Washington 34 years ago today, and was educated in Brooklyn. His first ambition was to become an illustrator, and it was while studying art in New York that he met, loved and married the lady who is now Mrs. Vance. Soon after their marriage, in 1898, Mr. Vance abandoned art to work as a clerk in the office of a public service corporation. His first big success came when he wrote a story for $25 in 1900 a story was born to the happy but poor couple. "It says," says Mr. Vance, "a very important event, not only in my life but in the history of American letters. No one appreciates that as much as I do. If it hadn't been for the responsibilities (a polite way of spelling debts) of fatherhood it might have been quickly disposed of for $25. For some time he continued to draw his wages as a clerk, and devoted his nights to literature. His first big success was secured in 1905 with "Tremor O'Rourke, Gentleman Adventurer." Since then his spectacular romances have gained a wide vogue, and the author is no longer the slave of a soulless corporation. He now spends much of his time wandering about Europe, and when he returned from his most recent trip the Vance family baggage consisted of no less than 90 pieces. As a measure of financial success, nothing could be more convincing than to return from Europe with 20 pieces of luggage.

CHINESE CONSUL INCURS DISFAVOR AT PANAMA

Government Officials Say He Is Endeavoring to Stop Registration

Panama, Sept. 19.—A rupture has occurred in the relations between the Panamanian government and Ou-Yang-Kong, the Chinese consul general, as a result of which the consul exequatur has been returned to him.

The government officials alleged that the consul has been unduly active in creating opposition among his countrymen to the provisions of the new law which requires them to register.

Twenty-two years ago China and Japan supplied all the tea consumed in Canada. The "Salada" Tea Co. at that time, commenced the introduction of British grown teas, with the result that last year, of the thirty-nine million pounds of tea imported, thirty-two millions came from Ceylon and India, and nearly one-quarter of all the tea sold in the Dominion was sold in "tea-bags" sealed lead packets.

The moral is—If you have a good thing with which to serve the public, advertising it.

The bride, who was unattended, wore an attractive costume of blue velvet with touches of black velvet, and black velvet hat with blue and black moiré. Mr. Richard McKay was best man.

After the ceremony, the couple was served at the Blue Moon. There the tables were attractively decorated with baskets of flowers and white ribbons. Radical Change in Style—Some Models Small, Chic Concealing Hug the Contour of the Head, Others Splendid Washbuckling Shapes Like the Plumed Hats of the Cavaliers.

The Paris modistes deserve much praise this season. And not only for the beauty of their models, but because they have finally succeeded in making a radical change in styles. Indeed, many millinery authorities say that the new hats are the best that have been seen in years. Without an idea to reflect upon the genius of the French modistes, the millinery modes of the last year, or so, were rather monotonous and not as artistic as those that have just made their debut. It may be that the craze for tulle and lace during the summer inspired the creating of fascias, chic angle and the wonderful posings of trimmings.

As the entire world considers Mme. Georgette the most notable modiste, I shall give her modes precedence. Her "Louis XIII" chapeau is really as chic as chic. Indeed, the way it curves up at a flare at the left side and turns down in an artistic angle at the right, makes it a thing that it would be just the hat for the chic little Fritz Schell.

Gorgeous ostrich plumes rise in a line from the left side and the right side of the head, and the ostrich ends droop very gracefully. This hat has support, when in the rich folds of Russian green.

The ostrich tips of black, intermingled with the rich, casimere colors, are posed in the form of a wreath around the crown of the head, and the black veil that Georgette. It is not the beauty of the ostrich, but the harmonizing of the black and the rich colors that make the hat such a gem. And, the fact that the long plume of the ostrich, from the left side (near back) of the hat is in a deep shade of blue instead of the usual black, gives distinction to the hat.

Quite the extreme of these trendy

Some of the most notable models, for instance, the little cap-like turban of black velvet that is draped so elegantly that it swallows the face, and is crossed and tied to form wings at the back, and it is upon these wings that wear butterflies of bright blue feathers are artistically posed. Indeed, when one sees this chapeau, it requires no imagination to picture the clever modiste posing the butterflies in this unique way.

A similar turban of black velvet has delicate bow of the velvet at the back, and an ermine band and a few tails arranged to form a mold directly behind the head, and in a way to suggest a brain.

Such a Paradise chapeau is a masterpiece. It is a small hat of black velvet, with well-upturned sides that are edged with bird of Paradise feathers to give the effect of high fairs.

Twelve Varon who is quite a new name in the realm of notable modistes, has attained her fame, because she is a master of lines—lines that are different as well as beautiful. One of her latest and most successful is the Alhambra which has the distinction of being the most successful side-flare hat—its high line at the left side is broken by a slight point from which ascends a high mounted triple pompadour of the exquisite velvet. Of course, this hat descends to an equally extreme angle at the right side. In seal brown velvet it is most effective.

One of her tailored models seems commonplace—I must admit—until one puts it on. Then, presto, it is a wonderful hat! Its roll brim becomes a stunning flare around the left side and across the brow, until it is turned over and fastened to the crown with stiff blades of the silk that are made to suggest an airplane bow. This hat, which is simple as can be, is without doubt one of the most remarkable hats of the season.

"I can't remember any time during the past twenty years when my heart wasn't aching. If I bent over, dark specks would come before my eyes, and it seemed as if all the blood in my body wanted to rush to my head." Thus opens the letter of Mrs. Enoch S. Sperry, of Pittsburg, Pa., and containing the interesting statement she says: "Work or exertion made my heart beat terrible, and going upstairs caused such shortness of breath that it fairly frightened me. I tell you how I feel today and you can understand what a great cure Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made. I feel strong enough now to work like a man, or go going upstairs on the run, it doesn't bother me at all. KISSING BROTHERS MAKE A COMMOTION

Crowd in Pennsylvania Station
Thought Pierce Was Being Whipped

New York, Sept. 19.—"Snack." A scene of persons hurrying to and from in the Pennsylvania railroad station stopped short.

"The snack" was reported. Turning in the direction from which it seemed to emanate, the curious among the persons in the station saw two well-dressed young men in each other's arms.

Both men were of athletic build and none of the persons who stopped to watch their antics from a distance cared to interfere. When it seemed as if the taller of the two was about to be thrown, they separated suddenly. Three men who had started after a policeman remained to watch developments, and every one moved a little closer. Then the gates to the train shed were thrown open and an announcer called upon all interstate passengers bound for Jamaica, L. I., and points east to go aboard the waiting train.

That seemed to be a signal for a recommencement of hostilities. The two men again came into grips again, and even the train announcer ceased his intonation.

"Snack!" Sure enough, it sounded again distinctly, but there was no mystery about the cause this time.

"Good-by, Pierre," said the taller man, "good-bye to you." And a fork and knife followed.

BULGARIAN PRINCE HAD FORTUNE TOLD

Ferdinand's Future Forecasted
Ten Years Ago, 1913

Paris, Sept. 19.—Recent happenings in Bulgaria have brought out the story of an interview ten years ago between the present king of Bulgaria and a French diplomat, who told Ferdinand his fortune from a pack of cards with remarkable accuracy. In 1903 the story goes the late M. Marelli was secretary of the French legation at Sofia. One night at a reception at the palace the present king, then merely prince Ferdinand, called him into a little study and asked him to read the future. M. Marelli asked for a pack of cards, and after certain manipulation said: "I see your influence and your power ceasing to grow. Other rulers listen to your voice. Your armies become more and more formidable. The year 1912 stands out above all others, your fortune in that year will be notable."

"So I must wait for nine years," muttered the prince, thoughtfully. "But tell me, what do you see in 1913?"

"After 1912 the cards are blank, they tell me nothing," answered M. Marelli.

M. Marelli's brother diplomat, however, was not satisfied with his last answer, when they left the consultation.

Pressed with questions, the young statesman finally said: "I could not tell you the future that I really saw in 1913, for in that year the cards stopped at 1913."

OLIVE OIL LIBELED, ITALIANS MAINTAIN

Reports of Shipment of Adulterated
Article to United States
Held Groundless

Rome, Sept. 19.—The Royal Italian Ministry of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce has recently taken action in respect to statements and rumors that have been circulated in America concerning the importation of Italian olive oil into the United States.

The reports have alleged that much adulterated Italian oil has been sent out, and that practically no genuine olive oil is exported to America. The investigations of the ministry have disclosed that these statements and rumors are absolutely groundless and entirely unfounded.

The law in Italy prohibits the sale, as olive oil, of any substance except genuine pure olive oil, and provides that whoever places on such mixtures of oil, other than olive, shall incur the same with the principal authorities a declaration to this effect, and at the same time, the containers in conspicuous characters so as to show the exact nature of the oil sold, and, moreover, he shall place on the premises where such oil is manufactured or sold, a notice that it is not genuine olive oil."

This law is enforced most rigorously throughout the whole of Italy.

ROOSEVELT CRANK TO LOSE PROPERTY

Company to Foreclose on the House Owned by Shooter of
One-time President.

Minneapolis, Sept. 19.—John Schrank, who shot Theodore Roosevelt on the night of October 14, 1912, in Milwaukee, is now bankrupt. Six weeks after the shooting Schrank was committed to the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Oshkosh, Wis.

Another chapter in his misadventure has begun when the City Real Estate Company started foreclosure proceedings against Schrank.

This action is to take away from Schrank a five-story apartment house at No. 131 East Eighth street, upon which the City Real Estate Company holds a mortgage for $15,000.

The real estate company filed a petition against the property, alleging that interest had not been paid since July 1, 1912.

At the office of the City Real Estate Company it was stated that the case would be pressed at once and that within a few days a receiver would be appointed to collect the rents of the apartment house.

As soon as the legal formalities have been observed the property is to be sold to satisfy the mortgage.

It was announced by the City Real Estate Company that it is unusual for a professional man to own property. That Schrank holds that the owning of property is "the best cure for anarchy," yet Schrank owned a tenement which housed ten families. The average monthly rental was $14, so that the income of the house is about $140 a month.

New York and Long Island

New York, Sept. 19.—The milk of human kindness was put to the test when Don Batson and Harold Dixon, outside brokers, who have the reputation of being the two most incorrigible practical jokers on Wall Street, decided to see how much money they could borrow between Manhattan and Long Beach, L. I.

"They made a good start by 'touching' the water they knew well to their waives every noon for $15. The water 'came across' without a murmur when the brokers told him that they had left all their money 'upstairs.'"

The trip to Long Beach was made in an automobile. Through Brooklyn the two made numerous stops at cafes, hotels and barber shops, and further out dropped in at various road houses.

By the time they reached Jamaica they had exhausted in nearly $200. The water they knew well they blundered asked for a loan of $25 or so.

Others they told tales of having been robbed on the way down or of having dropped their wallets. When Batson and Dixon finally said, down to count the collection they found they had nearly $1,000 between them.

Partial contents of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary

Based upon Noah Webster's Dictionary, revised and brought UP TO DATE in accordance with the most eminent English and American authorities on spelling, pronunciation and definition, and especially designed to meet the popular demand for a CONVENIENT, complete and RELIABLE Dictionary.

It contains all the words of the English language that are not peculiarly appropriate to a Dictionary of technical terms; it gives the spelling and pronunciation of Plurals, and indicates the use of capital and small letters in writing every word in the vocabulary; It gives the Past Tense and the Particles of all verbs not regularly formed by the addition of -d, -ed, and -ing; the Pronunciation of each word is plainly indicated by phonetic spelling; the Definitions, comprehensive, yet concise, are accurate and reliable.

Preceding the Dictionary proper will be found a treatise on ABBREVIATIONS of the Parts of Speech and their grammatical signification. Also a discourse on the Origin, Composition and Derivation of the English Language.

The ANALYSIS of the "Principles of Grammar" will fill a long-felt want in promoting the correctness of speech, both spoken and written.

Under the head of "SIMPLIFIED SPELLING" will be found the rules as adopted by the SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD, and giving a complete list of 300 words spelled in two ways, of which the Board says, "Choose the simpler spelling."

Finally is given a complete KEY TO PRONUNCIATION.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the Spelling, Pronunciation and Definition of the NEW WORDS which have been incorporated into our language only yesterday, as it were. For Instance: Aviator, Bi-plane, Brainstorm, Cordite, Okapi, Carburettor, Dictograph, Hookworm, Krypton, Lettergram, Nickelodeon, Oleria, Stovalne, Taxicab, Zemule, Hangar, Equilibrator, etc.

In about 24 hours the local sports who have been following the predictions of the Eskimo rugby squad for its first game will know with what measure of success Coach Deacon White has labored. The warriors, some 25 strong, will entrain for Calgary this evening and the game will be played in "Cow Town" tomorrow afternoon.

Confidence of the outcome of the game is as great as there is in any other game which will compare the two teams, saying it to say that it will be a battle royal and it will not be "fiddled with" it is said. The old rivalry between the Chicago, Sept. 19.—It was announced here last night that a fight had been arranged between ex-champion Ad Wolcast and ex-champion battling Nelson. The bout will be held in Milwaukee, October 13th or 27th, and Ad's home-town folks who are still mourning because they did not get to see him take the championship from Nelson nearly five years ago will have an opportunity to see him humble the Dane again, for there is no doubt that he is still the better man of the two. The bout will probably be for the "has been" championship of the world. Because both men have been famous and popular the "bout" will no doubt attract "world-wide" interest.

SPORTOGRAPHY

Hawaiians Celebrate Annual Regatta Day
Tasael and Gabu and the other "Pearls of the Pacific" being islands with a great deal of very wet water in the neighborhood, it is only natural that the inhabitants should take naturally to aquatic sports and pastimes. The horn Hawaiians takes to the water like a duck, and feels quite as much at home in it. Regatta Day, which will be celebrated tomorrow, was on every third Saturday in September for nearly a quarter of a century. It is the great local holiday of the mid-Pacific isles. Men, women and children, whites, natives, Japanese and Chinese, all take a day off to witness or participate in the events of Regatta Day. Nobody works on that glorious day, except newspaper men, policemen, and a few other slaves. Picked crews from all the islands gather in Honolulu, and the clubhouses along the course are occupied by the social, political and financial leaders of the territory. To the white visitor, one of the most interesting of the events on the program is the race between the Japanese fishermen in their sampans. The big yellow-skinned watermen send their clumsy barges through the water at a speed that seems incredible to any Caucasian who has ever tried to handle the big, crude reeling car of the Japs. This contest always excites wild enthusiasm among the thousands of Japanese spectators, and the women, clad in brilliant kimonos, cheer as vociferously as the men. The inter-island canoe race between natives is another spectacular event. The outrigger club of Waiakiki, composed of "Hables" or whites, usually enters this race, and occasionally the blonde crew beats the natives at their own game. The feminine canoeists have a race of their own, and there are many Hawaiian women who can make the men look to their laurels. There are also sailing canoe races, and yacht races, but the big event of the day is the six-oared barce race between the Heilani and Nyrile clubs. Swimming races are also included in the program, and Hawaii has many swimmers who are almost as good as the great Kalamamoku, who established the Olympic record for the 100 metres at Stockholm, and set up a new world's record for 100 yards in open water.

ARE GOING AFTER CLEANER RACING

Montreal Stewards Ruled Two More Jockeys Off the Course Yesterday.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The stewards ruled against two riders at Dorval Park yesterday afternoon. They ordered the badge of jockey Beattie taken off, denying him privileges of the course, and at the same time told jockey Ferguson that he was to be suspended from the meeting. The cause of these boys will be handed over to the Canadian Race Board, and then to deal with. The going was in much better condition yesterday afternoon than it was looked for. The choices won the majority of the events.

Summary of Races.

Second race, five and a half furlongs—Miss Primly won; Toddlers 2; Song of Ducks 3. Time—1:11-1/2.

ARMY OF SPECTATORS FOLLOWS GOLF PLAYER
Every Race Made by English Champion Vardon is Watched by Two Thousand Eyes.

Needham, Mass., Sept. 19.—England had a two-point advantage in the score and an even greater advantage in position, when the final rounds in the open golf championship began this morning on the links of the Country club. A cold north-eastern wind had set in when Edward play, one of the British trio, started the day's sport, playing with M. J. Brady, of Wollaston, as the first pair. The excellent conditions, however, failed to keep down the gallery, and when Harry Vardon, of England, an even favorite for the event, started, 20 minutes after him, nearly 1,000 enthusiastic spectators, including a fair sprinkling of women, thronged through the grass after him. The third round began with Vardon and Reid, of England, tied for first place at 147, and with Ray and Herbert Strong, of Inwood, only two strokes behind. In the first six places Americans had some strong players in MacDonald Smith, of Wykoff, and J. M. Bruce, of Tacoma, at 154. Francis Quinn, the brilliant Boston amateur, Alex. Ross, of Braintree, George Sampson, of Clery Chase, and W. Hagin, of Rochester, were all tied at 151.

There were 53 players in the running today, and it required about two and a half hours to send away the field.

LONDON INCOGNITO CLUB DEFEATS PHILADELPHIA

They Run Up Score of 80 for Loss of Two Wickets.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—The Incongnito club of London, added to its laurels yesterday by defeating the Philadelphia 11, in the two-day cricket match at the Marion club. Having scored by eight wickets, the Philadelphia scored 159 in their first innings yesterday, and today made 104 in their second turn at bat. The visitors rolled up 185 runs in their opening innings and needed but 79 in their second to win the match. They batted carefully and secured the victory, making 80 runs, one more than enough to win, with the loss of only two wickets. The English 11 will begin another match on Saturday at the Philadelphia cricket club.

Permits Taken Out For $65,000 Worth of Houses

Inspector's Office Had Busy Day Monday—1913 Building Record Promises to Keep up With Pace Set During Past Years—$13,100 for South Side

On Monday exactly $65,000 worth of building permits were taken out in Greater Edmonton. That means that on both sides of the river considerable building is anticipated this year, therefore the construction program of 1913 will finish up as bright and rosy as any previous year.

All the permits issued by Building Inspector Melvor are for the erection of dwellings. Not one permit calls for the construction of a business block. This is accounted for by the fact that in the early part of the year

I, A VISITOR to Edmonton, on Saturday, the 6th day of September, 1913, decided on taking a walk to see something of the City that is the Gateway to the 50 millions of fertile acres in the Peace River country. The City's marvelous growth of the past 10 years impressed me and as I recalled that out of every 100 acres in the vast wheat lands from Winnipeg to Edmonton only an average of 5 acres has as yet been plowed, I could not help but be impressed with what the future holds in store for the capital of Alberta. It seemed inevitable that if a city could grow to Edmonton's present size with 5 acres under cultivation and practically all the Peace River country undeveloped, what must its future be when, to 20, 30 or 50 acres out of every 100 to the South have been cultivated and even a part of the vast Peace River country was made to produce, and as I knew that the immigration to Alberta and the Peace River country was increasing every year I was forced to the conclusion that Edmonton will continue to grow rapidly, and as I looked at the map and Edmonton's central location, I recalled what a teacher in physical geography in the East had told our class a number of years ago, his words were as follows: "If any of you young men go West, settle in a central location, for where trade centers there will your cities be." It is the one and only explanation of large cities—central location. Manufacturers and all other industries will inevitably locate in central locations.

While in Edmonton, I walked North on 27th Street, saw fine houses, stores and newly laid pavement and it seemed to me that 27th Street possessed that central location among streets which is the secret of business streets as well as city location. I continued North, crossed the Interurban Street Railway Line and noted the level prairie country adjoining the Interurban Street Railway and thought what splendid suburban property Edmonton had and how little of natural obstacles there were to overcome, and saw that the grading of streets, the laying of sidewalks and other suburban improvements would be attended with as little difficulty as any city I ever saw.

As I continued North I met a young contractor, Mr. E. O. Drake, engaged him in conversation, and found he had just taken a contract for building 20 cottages (the smallest of which were 20 by 28 ft., plastered, painted and finished in approved city style) a store, restaurant, 4 miles of sidewalk and interurban depot in one of the suburban townships known as "Summerland." He explained to me that his contract called for the completion of these houses within 5 weeks from the 6th of September and that another 10 houses were to be completed within 8 weeks from that date. He also told me that he had kept very busy during the entire summer building and selling houses, and with the experience of 7 years' residence in Edmonton, his confidence grew each year and he made the statement that he believed Edmonton would grow at the rate of 20,000 people every year. My conversation with him increased my faith in Edmonton's future, and I have since engaged many others in conversation and find a spirit of optimism and faith based on past experience and knowledge of the natural resources yet undeveloped that assure for any country a great future.

A PASSENGER.

We agree with the conclusions of "A Passenger" and wish to say that the prices and terms in "Summerland" are as follows:
